Pasco Tax Collector Offices Accepting Donations for Hurricane Irma Victims

“It is a true measure of a community when a natural disaster such as Hurricane Irma hits and people respond with open arms to those in need,” states Pasco Tax Collector Mike Fasano. “It was an incredible sight to see so many people from our county and nearby communities come together and ensure that people were safe, had food and water, and shelter from the storm.

“Now that the threat of Irma is gone, and for many people the clean-up has taken place, our thoughts have moved on to other things,” Mike Fasano continues. “However, there are many people in our very own community who are still faced with the realities of what Hurricane Irma wrought. For some, entire stocks of frozen and fresh food were lost due to extended power loss. For others, damage to home and property due to high winds and fallen tree limbs caused damage that seem impossible to repair.”

The five locations of the Pasco Tax Collector’s Office are accepting cash donations for Hurricane Irma victims. Working with the county to ensure funds get to where they need to go, every dollar raised during this campaign will be used for victims’ relief. If you would like to donate to this fundraising effort please visit any of our five offices in Pasco County:
